

Hampshire Festival of Primary Science Education 2024

21 May 2024

Following the success of last year's first Hampshire Festival of Primary Science Education, we are pleased to announce the line up for our second year. We have a range of presentations and workshops planned for primary science teachers on key topics such as how to make science exciting and accessible for all, Keeping science safe; what CLEAPSS does for you, the importance of improving our ocean health – and more!

The festival will include:

- Networking opportunities.
- Practical ideas to take back to the classroom.
- Exploring exhibitions linked to the primary science curriculum.
- Focusing on the importance of improving our ocean health, including looking at the impact of plastic pollution on our environment, and identifying ethical and sustainable alternatives to single-use plastic.

We will be welcoming the following guest speakers to share their expertise with you:

Keynote: Dr Maria Pack - Lead Primary Consultant, CLEAPSS

Keeping science safe and much more; what CLEAPSS does for you

CLEAPSS are the people who ensure that you and your children are able to undertake the practical work that you want to do. They provide schools with advice about how to safely manage activities that you may otherwise avoid and inspiration for activities you never even thought of.

Workshop: CLEAPSS Primary Practical Workshop

This workshop is a series of practical activities to try and take away, using easily accessible and easy-to-use materials. The session will include tips on planning for effective practical work that supports both knowledge and skills.

Keynote: Dr Jo Montgomery – Chartered Science Teacher (CSciTeach) and research scientist Retrieval practice in primary science

Exploring the evidence and practical strategies and examples of retrieval practice in the context of primary science, making links across the curriculum in both substantive and disciplinary knowledge.

Workshop: Georgina Maw - Head of Educational Outreach - Final Straw Foundation
